SUMMARY

Emergency Doctors Medical Services (EDMS) is a specialist provider of event medical support, critical care services and inter-hospital transport based in Manningtree (Essex). Covering a wide variety of local and national events from small fun runs to large scale festivals. Event and Public First Aid (EPFA) staff are a core part of our business. Applicants to the EPFA role will be required to have a First Resource Emergency Care Level 3 (FREC3). This is available in-house by our education and development team or commercially at other centres. As an EPFA with us, you will often be the first point of contact with many of our service users working alongside other healthcare professionals to achieve the best results.

have a bearing on the prevention and control of infection in particular: All staff are expected to understand their responsibilities as outlined in the infection prevention and control policy and related guidelines, comply with all stated systems and maintain their knowledge of infection prevention and control relative to their role. Staff will also be expected to undertake mandatory training around this subject on an annual basis.

Confidentiality, Data Protection, Freedom of Information and Computer Misuse: All staff must ensure confidentiality and security of information dealt with in the course of performing their duties. They must comply with and keep up to date with EDMS policies and legislation on confidentiality, data protection, freedom of information and computer misuse.

Any matter of a confidential nature, particularly information relating to patients, members of staff, or any of the EDMS's business matters, must not, under any circumstances be divulged or passed on to any unauthorised persons. This duty extends after employment ceases.

Communication: All staff should be able to communicate effectively with people who use services and other staff, to ensure that the care, treatment and support of people who use services is not compromised.

Health, Safety, Security and Risk Management: All staff are required to adhere to and act consistently with all relevant health and safety legislation and EDMS policies and procedures in order to ensure that their own and the health, safety and security of others is maintained. This will include identifying and reporting all risks to health and safety, security of equipment, property and use of necessary safety devices and protective clothing.

Equality and Diversity: Actively promote the EDMS's commitment to equality and diversity by treating all patients, colleagues and visitors with dignity and respect and comply with related policies.

Mandatory, job related training and CPD: Take a proactive approach to own personal development in order to ensure that skills set is aligned to the demands of the role as it evolves and develops to meet the organisation's changing needs. This will include completing a suite of mandatory training on an annual basis as well as any additional training deemed necessary by EDMS.
